

Carfield Newsletter May 2022 (1)

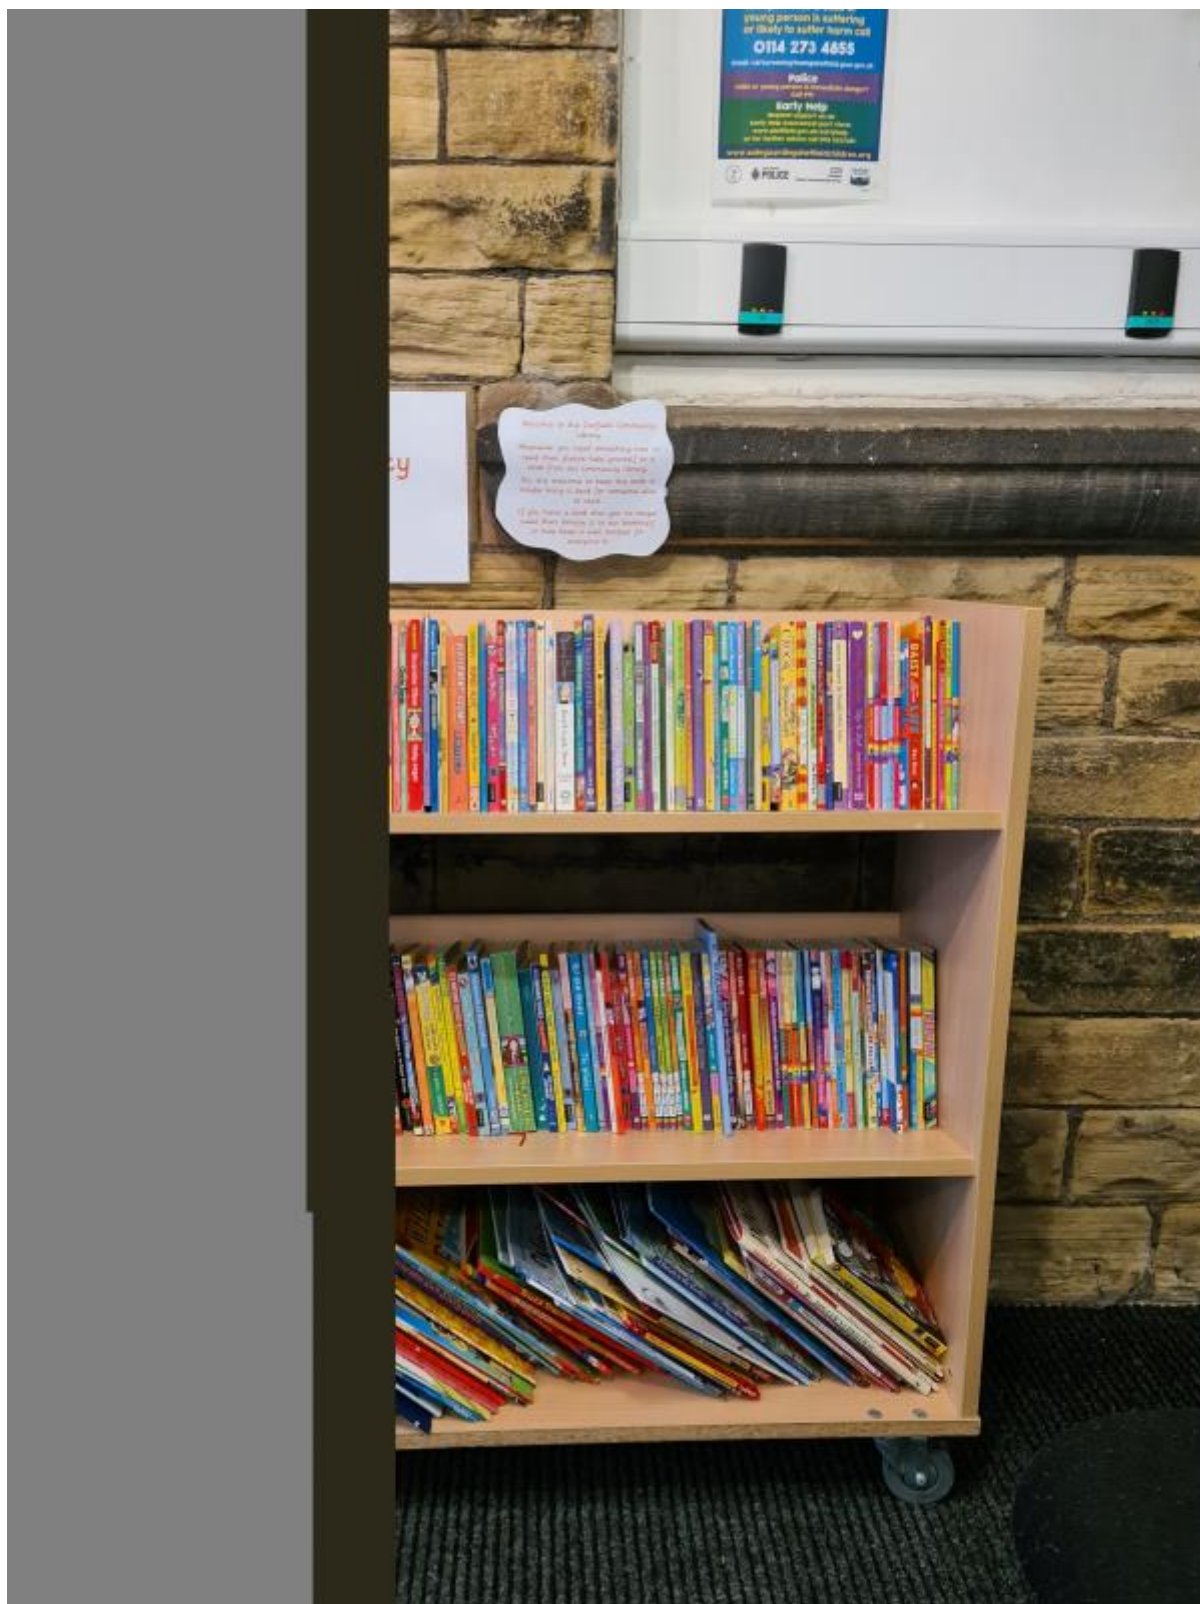

We have had a brilliant start to this half term with lots of exciting learning and activities. Earth week was fantastic; every child planted a sunflower and got a book to take home as part of the Great Big Carfield Book Swap. I would like to thank Sarah Dalrymple for coming in to deliver a very informative and interesting assembly about climate change and some of the exciting things she does in her role.

Carfield Community Library

Mrs Roberts and her Eco Squad organised a fantastic book swap event last week. To ensure that every child has the opportunity to read a book at home, we now have a community library that is based in the entrance by the school office. If you have any unwanted children's books, do donate bring them and put them on the shelf. Equally, please do encourage your children to borrow the books at any time.

Uniform

Further to correspondence in the last two weeks, we will be introducing new uniform from September 2022. The old colours will be phased out so that by September 2023 all children will be in the navy uniform with grey or black trousers/shorts, dresses/skirts. Some people have asked about the royal blue being phased out slower to allow children to grow out of uniform. As a result of this the royal blue will be phased out by September 2024. We will donate all uniform that is no longer required to schools in Ghana.

As part of our re-branding, we are currently designing a new website, which we hope will be more up to date and easier to navigate. This will be up and running by the end of the year.
